

Grain Farmers of Ontario response to U.S. tariffs

Grain Farmers of Ontario understands that tariffs have a significant impact on the Ontario grain and oilseed industry and Ontario's farmers. Grain Farmers of Ontario's position is that free trade must be maintained and be a part of Canada's approach to negotiations with the U.S.

Grain Farmers of Ontario has been actively participating in stakeholder engagement, research, and identifying risks and threats of tariffs and working diligently to prepare for their implementation. The number one priority is protecting farmer-member interests.

As these issues evolve, Grain Farmers of Ontario will continue to work with provincial and federal governments and impacted industry partners to ensure that its farmer-members voices are being heard and to find solutions that minimize impact on the industry.

As the issue unfolds, more information will be shared with farmer-members about Grain Farmers of Ontario's response.